Alumnus Kalif Robinson (B.A. '17, Georgia State 40 Under 40 honoree) worked multiple jobs to help pay for his undergraduate degree in economics while studying at Georgia State. After graduating, he worked on Capitol Hill and then earned his master's degree at Georgetown University. Now, he's a U.S. foreign service officer for the United States Department of State. In 2018, he represented Georgia State in the documentary "Unlikely," which explores underrepresented students' barriers to college graduation.

Georgia State Football Star—Turned NFL Star

Alumnus Wil Lutz (B.S.'17, Georgia State 40 Under 40 honoree) walked on to Georgia State's football team his first year as a student. His sophomore year, he kicked a record-setting 53-yard field goal against No. 1 Alabama, and his junior year he became the team's punter. Now he plays for the New Orleans Saints and is one of the best kickers in the NFL. He came back to Georgia State in 2017 to finish his degree.
