

Brookwood HHH

Helping Hands and Hearts

Winter 2022

The holidays will be a lot brighter for several Brookwood families thanks to our faculty, staff, and students who have helped Helping Hands and Hearts (HHH).

This year HHH is helping 10 families, which include a total of 37 kids. As always, faculty and staff sign up to be elves to shop for the families. These "elves" get a $50 gift card for each child, but many helpers spend more by reaching into their own pockets for the sake of the children.

HHH would like to thank this year's holiday elves:

Paige Dodson and Ericka Davis have also been busy elves helping to organize all the packages for families to pick up.

HHH purchased more than $700 of non-perishable groceries to help the families cope with two weeks of no school food. The Counseling Department picked up the food from Sam's and some of our Merge Mentors unpacked the items.

Beyond these helpers, we have the entire school to thank for their involvement through fundraising during November's HHH Week. Faculty and staff got creative to raise more than $7,000 in one week. The top fundraising Guided Study teachers are:

Chris Keyser $1,400+

John Chvatal

Emily Humphrey

Brookwood's HHH is led and managed by Special Education teacher Shelton Steele.
